Nanosurf is there for you!

As of January 1, 2008, Nanosurf is directly supplying the Swiss market with its high-quality nanotech products.

Nanosurf wishes to thank its former Swiss distributor, the Schaefer-Tec AG, for the competent support over the years, and for a very pleasant and fruitful cooperation.

For more than ten years, Nanosurf has been manufacturing unique scanning probe microscopes (AFM & STM) to help professionals capture, analyze, and present material surface information with subnanometer resolution. Our products and services enjoy the trust of leading universities and companies worldwide. Nanosurf microscopes excel through their highly compact and elegant design, their easy handling, and their absolute reliability. In every instrument, state-of-the-art techniques from nanoscience and nanotechnology were implemented in ground-breaking ways.

All of this is available to you at an unbeatable price!
